Coming to HHL with a background in economics, my M.Sc. studies with a major in finance allowed me to discover my enthusiasm and to deepen my understanding for the field! Having enjoyed these hands-on courses, I was ready to accept a role in the investment banking industry. While working with HSBC and UBS at first, I eventually moved to private equity at Ardian.

My studies at HHL were characterized by a unique and practical approach to learning that seamlessly integrated theory with real-world applications. This approach provided me with a comprehensive toolkit and fostered a well-rounded skill set. The focus on providing a deep understanding of finance further prepared me for the challenges of my career in strategy consulting.
